What You Need to Know About Registering with Selective Service

Q: What is Selective Service?

A: The Selective Service System is a government agency whose job it is to provide untrained manpower for the Armed Forces if there's a national emergency.

Q: What is Selective Service registration?

A: By registering, you add your name to a list of all the men in the nation, ages 18 through 25. The list would be used to identify men for possible military service in case of a national emergency.

Q: What happens if there's a draft?

A: There hasn't been a draft since 1973. If there were an emergency sufficient for Congress to order another draft, Selective Service would conduct a birthdate lottery to decide the order in which to call men. Those who turn 20 during that calendar year would be called first in a sequence determined by the lottery. If more men were needed, those 21 to 25 would be called, youngest first.

Q: Who is required to register?

A: The law says that all 18-year-old men (including U.S. citizens living abroad and non-citizen immigrant males 18-25 residing in the U.S.) must register. The only young men exempt from registration are non-citizen males who are in the U.S. temporarily as tourists, diplomats and their family members or foreign exchange students; incarcerated or institutionalized men; men on active duty in the Armed Forces; and students at U.S. military academies.

Q: Why don't women have to register?

A: Our nation only registers men. This has always been the case. Selective Service law as it presently is written refers specifically to "male persons" in stating who must register and who could be subject to a draft. Therefore, Selective Service procedures do not apply to women. In order for women to be required to register with Selective Service, Congress would have to change the wording of the law.

Q: What if I don't register?

A: You are breaking the law. If prosecuted, you could be sent to prison for up to 5 years and may be fined up to $250,000. In addition, if you fail to register, you cannot qualify for federal student grants or loans for college, job training benefits and many state and federal jobs.

Q: Is registration hard?

A: No. In fact it's never been easier. A young man can register with Selective Service in less than 2 minutes via the Internet at: www.sss.gov. You can also register by going to your local post office and completing a registration form. It's as simple as filling in your name, address, telephone number, date of birth and Social Security number. Registration forms should be available in your local recreation or social service center, school's guidance or registrar office, or you may receive a form in the mail. Simply complete it and mail the form to Selective Service.

Q: When should I register?

A: Within 30 days of your 18th birthday. If you cannot register on time because you are hospitalized or in prison, you have 30 days in which to register after you are released. If 30 days have already passed since your 18th birthday, register immediately, either on-line or at your post office. Although Selective Service will accept a late registration, the longer you wait, the longer you are breaking the law and jeopardizing your future benefits.

Q: How do I prove I registered?

A: When registering via the Internet, you will receive your Selective Service number immediately. That number is your proof of registration - for safe keeping, jot it down. You will receive a Selective Service card by mail within 2 weeks confirming that number. (Note: If you registered by mail, you will receive a card confirming your registration within 60-90 days.) If you don't get your card within 90 days, write to:

Military Scholarships

ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corps) and Naval ROTC Programs offered by the Army, Marine Corps, Navy, and the Air Force, train qualified young men and women to become officers in those services upon graduation from college. The good news is, ROTC is available in more than 1,000 colleges and universities throughout the U.S., both those that host ROTC units or detachments and those with cross-enrollment agreements with them.

Here's a closer look at some ROTC requirements:

- * During college, students take a full course load. However, included in the curriculum are military science courses that provide the specialized knowledge needed as an officer.
- * In addition to academic courses, ROTC candidates wear uniforms once a week during military labs, drills, military science presentations, and other practical training activities.
- * ROTC summer programs offer a taste of military life—such as midshipmen cruises in Naval ROTC—and round out a candidate's military training.

ROTC Scholarships:

Scholarships are not necessary for participation in ROTC, but hundreds of ROTC students receive scholarships every year.

Scholarships are competitively awarded on merit. The main considerations are:

- * High school academic record
- * SAT or ACT scores
- * Extracurricular activities
- * Personal interview

The length, value, and terms of ROTC scholarships vary by service. All services offer four-year scholarships that include full tuition, books, fees, and a monthly tax-free stipend.

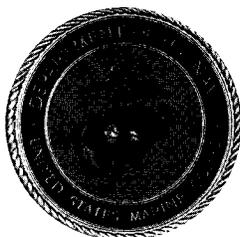

However, three-, two-, and even one-year ROTC scholarships are also available, which are all well worth inquiring about. Some services offer health-related or Nurse ROTC program variations, and the U.S. Navy even has an ROTC program at a variety of Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

ROTC Online:

Before calling for information, a visit to ROTC Web sites is a must. You can click on links for specific colleges and universities where ROTC programs are available and more.

Please Note:

At this time, ROTC is not being offered by the Coast Guard. However, a similar program is available to those interested. The College Student Pre-Commissioning Initiative (CSPI) is a scholarship program for college sophomores. This program provides valuable training and full payment of school tuition, fees, textbooks, a salary, medical insurance, and other benefits during a student's junior and senior year of college. The CSPI program guarantees training at Officer Candidate School (OCS) upon successful completion of all program requirements. Following the completion of OCS and commission as a Coast Guard officer, each student will be required to serve on active duty (full time) as an officer for three years. Find out more about CSPI.
